

FEDERAL MAN IN CITY TO ENFORCE THE LIQUOR LAW

Supervisor for Arizona Arrives to Begin Work of Ridding State of Booze—Conference to be Held Today

Uncle Sam now has a man on the ground here in Phoenix to see that the prohibitory law, which now is neither a city nor a state affair, but national legislation, is enforced in every particular.

W. T. Webb of Graham county, recently appointed federal prohibition director for Arizona, reached this city yesterday to begin his duties.

"With the assistance of an able corps of paid men and the co-operation on the part of all organizations," said Mr. Webb, "I will endeavor to enforce prohibition throughout the state."

A conference will be held today at the internal revenue office in the federal building between Mr. Webb and W. A. Kelly, supervisory federal prohibition agent for the Pacific coast district, according to a statement by Mr. Webb yesterday.

Into Every Walk

"This conference," said he, "will be of the nature of an organization meeting. Afterward, we will know more about what we shall do. Picked men will be selected to work under my direction in ridding the state of booze in every form as set forth in the federal prohibition law. I do not know yet who these men will be, but their instructions will be exacting, and no favoritism will be shown. They will have but one direct order. That will be to enforce the federal prohibition law.

"This work will take us into every walk of life. Meetings will probably be addressed, including those in churches. We will seek co-operation from every source possible."

Mr. Webb was unable to find office accommodations in the federal building and spent the greater part of yesterday in an effort to secure such accommodations elsewhere. Mr. Webb stated that he did not know what hour the conference would be held today, as he is awaiting the arrival of Mr. Kelly, who wired that he would arrive today.

PROTEST SANTA FE'S LAND SELECTIONS

The cattlemen of the north are bitterly opposed to the selection by the Santa Fe railroad of over a million acres of public domain in the word received at the U. S. land office at Phoenix.

The most recent complaint filed with J. L. Irvin, register, came from the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way and Railway Shop Laborers. The letter received by Mr. Irvin yesterday is as follows:

"Do hereby protest against the government of the United States of America turning over more of our public domain to either private corporation or the state of Arizona, on the ground that turning over this public domain is driving the main producer from the

THE BOY PROBLEM IS HOBBY OF THIS ST. LOUIS BUSINESS MAN

Aman should not expect from the sons of other men what he would not demand of his own, says M. J. Collins, vice president of the Big Brother organization, who lives up to his belief.

Mr. Collins has five sons. When war was declared he considered that he had two who were old enough to go—Charles, a boy of 18 and Harry, 18. Charles first put the idea in his father's head by declaring his intention of joining the navy, and Collins "Good for you, son!" took the practical form of accompanying the boy to Washington where he tried to prevail upon Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy to let the boy enlist despite his youth. When this was denied, Collins did not interfere when Charles went to Boston and by misstating a few facts was soon in uniform. At 17 he is now on his way home from Japan on a battleship.

"I would have been ashamed of him if he hadn't wanted to go," said Collins, who declared that after Charles was in the service he went to Harry and asked him if he proposed to let his "kid brother" do something that he would not do. Harry is now en route for home from Siberia. He also was in the navy.

"Suppose something had happened to them, how would you have felt after encouraging them to go?" Mr. Collins was asked.

"How do other fathers feel?" was his answer.

Although his boys have the wholesome amusement which through his activities has been given thousands of boys of St. Louis, they have not always been content. His son, Charles, has known the "wanderlust" since he was a tiny fellow. When he was only 10 years old he ran away for a week and when found was telling a pathetic tale of being alone in the world and having to make his way. The story was such a good one that even Collins had to admit "It was pretty good for ten years old."

Charles Ross's mother had to stand it and so did we with that boy. He went away again when he was 12 and was gone for a week and then he came home, happy to be there.

Mr. Collins is connected with the Big Brothers of St. Louis. While on a tour of the country visiting branch offices of the Graham-Packer company, of which he is vice president he is interesting people everywhere in the boy problem. He left for Los Angeles the other day. He is the owner of a large orange grove in the valley.

range and driving the small farmer out of business, these being the only men who sell their product direct to us and saving middleman's profit, and

"Whereas the said state of Arizona and the large companies will not lease or sell to the small farmer as they should. We know of one small farmer who has been trying to secure a small tract of land from the state of Arizona in order to run a small dairy in connection with farming. He had tried this for two years and failed. And we therefore protest as an organized body."

MUSICIANS WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY BANDS

The war department is anxious to secure young men for the army bands. This is an unusual opportunity for those who are anxious to become accomplished musicians, as the government offers to supply the instruments and instruction necessary. All a man needs is a good healthy physique and a love for music and Uncle Sam will get the results. It is also possible for a man to join any band he likes. If he has any choice he will be sent to the station of his preference.

It is well known that musicians who have served an enlistment in an army band are always in demand. They are known to be exceptionally good and their service in the army is a recommendation that could never be otherwise gained.

BIG WAGE INCREASE FOR ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—By a big majority, the house military affairs committee today agreed to report favorably the bill of Representative Crago, republican, Pennsylvania, granting an increase of 20 per cent in the pay of all officers of the army, navy, marine corps, public health service and coast guard up to and including the rank of brigadier general in the army, and equivalent grades in other services. The bill also would increase the pay of enlisted personnel of these services 20 per cent in all cases where the present base pay amounts to $33 a month or more.

Increases provided in the bill would be effective from passage until June 30, 1921, and it is estimated would cost the government approximately $40,000,000 annually.

The house naval affairs committee has agreed to increases in the pay of officers and men of the navy. An effort will be made to obtain consent of the naval committee to substitution of the Crago bill. If this permission can not be obtained, Representative Crago said the portion of his bill applying to the navy probably will be stricken. The bill is to be reported to the house tomorrow.

PROTECTION FOR DINING TABLE

The danger of marring the finish of a dining table with a white spot caused by water which may soak through a centerpiece from a fern or other decorative plant often offsets enjoyment of the plant's beauty. An easy way to overcome this trouble is to cut a piece of oilcloth the proper size and place it beneath the centerpiece. This will prevent moisture from penetrating the linen and marring the table.

BRAZIL FOR SUFFRAGE

Brazil is entering the suffrage race, according to reports reaching this country. A bill, the purpose of which is to grant the right of suffrage to the women of Brazil, has been introduced into the senate of that country. This bill provides that suffrage should be granted to women 21 years of age or over.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Monthly Income FOR EVERY COTTON GROWER

The United Agricultural and Commercial Interests of Maricopa County say:

"Make cotton the big cash crop—BUT—keep a few cows, a flock of chickens and some hogs. Diversification removes farm drudgery and insures soil fertility and profit in farming every year."

Maricopa County Bankers' Association

Thru the Eyes of others

The first thing a man does when he hears about a new proposition is to ask the question, "How am I to know what you say is true?" The first thing a shrewd man does before making an investment is to consult his banker. Banks and bankers are authorities on such matters. The first thing a prospective settler usually does is to consult the Chamber of Commerce in the place where he expects to settle.

THE ARIZONA NATIONAL BANK OF TUCSON

September 13, 1919.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It has been our pleasure to become acquainted with the officers and directors of the Tucson Farms Co.—more especially its president, Major H. Nicholson, and its vice-president, F. W. Taylor—and we wish to say we consider them conservative, high-class business men.

The Tucson Farms Co. have been, and are, developing about 12,000 acres of land in the Santa Cruz Valley, adjacent to Tucson, Arizona, and are bringing the same into a high state of cultivation.

The writer is convinced that the opportunities for raising cotton in this vicinity are exceptional, as evidenced by the experiments made in other parts of the state where conditions are very similar.

We have every reason to believe that the land they are offering for sale is first class and all the representations they have made to us have been fair, frank and conservative.

We have had more than usual opportunity to follow the operations of this company as handled by their officers in the last two years—a better opportunity than the usual banker has—and we therefore feel free to recommend these gentlemen to anyone seeking a good investment, for we know that the market, climatic and natural conditions are such that they offer a most excellent opportunity for the industrious farmer.

Yours sincerely,
CHAS. F. SOLOMON,
President.

Tucson, Arizona, September 13th, 1919.

TO WHOM THIS MAY COME:

This organization is thoroughly familiar with the project known as the Tucson Farms Company, and we are also intimately acquainted with the gentlemen who own this property, and have always found them to be men of unquestionable integrity, men who will carry out to the letter any promise they may feel justified in making.

As it is essential to our best interests as a community to see the thousands of acres of fertile soils adjacent to Tucson in the hands of experienced and energetic farmers, we are most eager to see such acreages in good hands at the earliest possible time.

For the past half century, Tucson has been almost altogether dependent upon markets at a great distance for her supply of human and animal sustenance. This letter is to assure prospective buyers of land under the project mentioned, that we will not only welcome them into this community, but gladly avail ourselves to the opportunity of buying the products of their husbandry.

Prices for such crops as are raised in this vicinity are higher, at the present time, than anywhere else we know of in the country. This is explained by the high freight rates prevailing between points at which we are now compelled to buy such products, and Tucson.

It is with pleasure that we give this letter to the Tucson Farms Company, feeling that our prosperity is linked with theirs. We know that purchasers of acreage under their project will be satisfied with conditions, as represented.

Respectfully,
STANLEY J. KITT,
President.

Attest:
MALCOLM FRAZIER,
Secretary.
